

At the Law Office of Michael J. Davis, we will work to obtain the largest possible settlement to compensate you if you have been injured by the negligence of another person or company. We have successfully handled cases involving construction accidents, slip-and-fall injuries, auto accidents, product liability claims, and toxic torts. A defendant's insurance company will often push to settle quickly, even before you contact an attorney. After the long process of reaching your maximum medical recovery, the settlement offer may still not reflect the extent of your injuries and your associated damages. Our office is not hesitant to take the matter to court to recover your lost wages, medical costs, and compensation for your pain and suffering.
